Version 3 (FINAL):
Let Justice Flow Like a Mighty Stream

Colors in the sanctuary windows

The Torah covers will be made of "watercolor-style" dyed silk satin, silk velvet, and other high-light fabrics. The covers will be quilted. The color palette will compliment the existing stained glass windows, with a lot of blue tones. Highlight colors will pick up on the Ner Tamid: deep oranges/yellows. The abstract design represents water flowing over earth and stone.
